

L.A.F.F.T.E.R. Hash Rules

1. No whining.
2. There is no rule #2.
3. See rule 1.
4. No stealing (see hereunder - definition of stealing):

Stealing - the covert removal of another Hasher's property with the intention of depriving said hasher of such property for an indefinite period of time.

5. No stealing, but borrowing is okay (see hereunder the definition of borrowing):

Borrowing - the act of covert temporary removal of another Hasher's property (property in this instance is confined to items of a portable nature and directly related to hashing such as mugs, bugles and run books). Substantial items such as kegs whilst being directly related to hashing should never be borrowed. At all times the property borrowed is held for a relatively short period of time and always returned in good order. Often such property is enhanced by suitable engraving to record for posterity the guile of the borrower. Borrowing is a complex issue and where any doubt exists the Grand Master should be consulted.

6. Rain is not permitted during Hash runs. The Religious Advisor is personally responsible for ensuring that fine conditions prevail for the full weekend of each summer and winter hash.

7. No tax collectors.

8. No discrimination. Unemployed, dogs, women, criminals, disabled, nymphomaniacs, hashers from Burlington, and even lawyers are all encouraged to run Hash. Alcoholics are particularly welcome. Athletes are tolerated. Athletes, dogs and children, whilst permitted to run, can never aspire to become Grand Master.

9. Down-downs may not be declined, but alternate beverages or showing skin may be allowed at the discretion of the Religious Advisor or his designate.

10. No competitiveness.

11. No training. Persons caught training will be deemed to have breached rule 11 and will be liable to a charge. A range of activities may be interpreted as training, and for guidance the following non-exhaustive list is provided:

- a) running other than official Hash runs, unless a Hash event;
- b) cycling (fornication on a push bike is exempt);
- c) visiting a gymnasium for any other purpose than perving on the aerobics class;
- d) using the stairs while escalators are available; and
- f) wearing of competitive clothing at the hash.
- g) new shoes will not be tolerated. Really.

12. All Hashers must commit to memory rules 1, 2, 3, 10 and 17 and be able to recite them at any hour of the day or night regardless of their state of inebriation.

13. No fighting at Hash. This rule is absolute and the entire culture of Hash relies on strict adherence to this rule. If a fellow Hasher causes you immense displeasure by stealing your car or impregnating your daughter (wives are exempt) then belt the shit out of him at some other place than Hash and on some other day than hash day which is a day of reverence and tranquility.

14. No bikes. Dikes OK.

15. Other rules may be enacted by the committee as they see fit.

16. Amendments to Rules 1, 3, 6, 8, 9, 11, 13, and 17 are illegal.

17. There are no rules.

Note: Bestiality is not covered in these Rules due to the proliferation of New Zealand Hashers. As this item is not incorporated in Hash rules, all behavior covered by the above note is subject to determination by the Grand Master or his designate.
